THE UNIVERSITY OF UTAH

Dear Parent(s)/Guardian:

The University of Utah Office of Admissions and The Center for Equity and Student Belonging has invited your student to attend the Latiné High School Conference. It will be held at the University of Utah on Thursday, February 15th, 2024. The conference will allow your student to explore the University of Utah and its options for educational resources and opportunities. We would like the opportunity to work with your child in order to build positive relationships that will encourage them to consider higher education as a means of further empowering themselves and their communities.

The conference will focus on cultural awareness, self-pride, education, leadership, and the importance of obtaining a college degree; as well as awareness of connecting students to different student support programs. University of Utah students, faculty, staff, and professionals from our community will facilitate all of the workshops.

The conference will be held from 8:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. under the supervision of University students, faculty, and staff. Breakfast and lunch will be provided free of charge. Students can register for the high school conference at: <https://futureu.admissions.utah.edu/register/ITSA>

We look forward to having your student attend our conference.

Sincerely,
